Experience

Junior UI Designer | WELL Health September 2021 - Present

I took ownership of our accessibility efforts and embedded accessibility standards into our design system. I arranged both internal and external interview and testing sessions to explore pain points and evaluate solutions for our ChatAssist AI feature. I worked on wireframing and prototyping, involving cross-functional critique sessions to ensure all teams were on board and excited for our solutions.

Junior UI Design Intern | WELL Health July - September 2021

As one of two designers working across a rapidly scaling startup, I was able to work with multiple Product Managers and Engineering teams across the company at different stages of the project life cycle. I designed both new features and strategized how to best redesign pre-existing ones. I worked to revamp our design system to be more useful for our engineering teams.

Georgia Tech Full Stack Web Development Bootcamp May - August 2020

As part of my three month bootcamp, I researched, designed, coded, and presented user interfaces for three, one-week-long web development sprints using Sketch. I evaluated and iterated designs in collaboration with other developers and compromised on viable designs. Lastly, I presented designs and front-end code and explained design decisions and competitive analysis research.
